Report On Guest Lecture Of Mr.Peter Parkar

On 15th June 2023, the Graduate School of Management Studies (GSMS) at Gujarat Technological University organized a guest lecture as part of its Classroom Lecture Series. The guest speaker for the session was Mr. Peter Parkar, an EXIM Expert serving as the CEO of an organization. The aim of the lecture was to provide practical knowledge to GSMS students and enhance their understanding of various aspects related to export-import. Mr. Parkar's extensive expertise and experience in the field made him the ideal choice to share valuable insights with the students.

The guest lecture began with a warm welcome speech delivered by Dr. Tushar Panchal, Assistant Professor and coordinator of the session. Mr. Peter Parkar then commenced his session by discussing the fundamental requirements of export-import. He shared his extensive knowledge regarding organizations involved in international trade, shedding light on their roles and significance. Recognizing the importance of key terminologies in international trade and EXIM, Mr. Parkar provided valuable insights to the students pursuing International Business. He delved into various topics such as the types of vessels, containers, and modes of transportation, highlighting their differences and emphasizing their importance in the export-import process. Furthermore, he provided a comprehensive explanation of the current procedures and practices associated with sea transportation, emphasizing its significance. Mr. Parkar also covered crucial aspects like Inland Container Depots (ICDs), the role of banks in EXIM, and provided detailed knowledge about the Letter of Credit (L.C.). The students displayed great enthusiasm and eagerness to learn about export-import, actively participating in the lecture and posing relevant questions to Mr. Parkar. The session proved to be highly informative and engaging, enabling the students to acquire essential knowledge about containers, types of transportation, and other pertinent aspects of international trade.

Following the conclusion of the question-answer session, the session coordinator expressed gratitude to Mr. Peter Parkar for his insightful lecture. A vote of thanks was extended to acknowledge his valuable contribution to the students' learning experience.
