4) Description of Event (Objective/Rationale to organize the event):

The primary objective of organizing this study visit was to give students a real-world look at how famous historical places and tourist spots are managed. By visiting a UNESCO World Heritage Site, the Institute wanted students to see how we can protect old monuments while still handling thousands of visitors every day. The visit to Champaner helped students understand the great building designs and city planning from the past, connecting their studies to actual history.

Additionally, the trip to the Pavagadh Temple using the Ropeway was planned to show how modern technology and transport are used to help people travel safely in hilly areas. This gave students a chance to see the hard work and planning required to run a major religious site smoothly. Overall, the visit was organized to help students become more responsible and learn the importance of teamwork and coordination while respecting our country's heritage
