4) Description of Event (Objective/Rationale to organize the event):
   The National Service Scheme (NSS) volunteers of GTU School of Management Studies actively participated in the Massive Tree Plantation Drive organized at Vanzar Village in the esteemed presence of the Hon'ble Home Minister of India, Shri Amit Shah.

   The Programme was organized by the Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation (AMC) with the objective of promoting environmental sustainability, increasing green cover, and encouraging active public participation in environmental conservation. The day started early, with all NSS volunteers assembling at the GTU Football Ground by 6:30 AM in college uniform and ID cards in hand. AMC had arranged buses for us, which left at 7:20 AM for Vanzar Village. The ride itself turned into a nice mix of BBA and MBA students chatting away, swapping stories, and generally making the journey fun rather than just another commute. We reached the site around 8:50 AM.

The previous night's heavy rain had left the ground pretty muddy, so we had to watch our step, but the site was well set up — AMC officials, police, field staff, and NSS volunteers from other colleges were all already there. Once we got to our assigned area, the coordinators walked us through the plantation process and a few safety pointers before we got started. Each of us was asked to plant at least five saplings, and working in small groups, we planted native species like Neem, Banyan, Peepal, Gulmohar, and Jamun. The muddy ground and warm weather didn't dampen anyone's spirit everyone pitched in with real enthusiasm.

By around 9:45 AM, the plantation wrapped up, and we took a group photo with the GTU School of Management Studies NSS banner to mark the occasion. We headed back to campus and arrived by 11:30 AM, where breakfast and refreshments were waiting before everyone finally called it a day.

All transportation, logistics, and on-site arrangements were efficiently managed by AMC, ensuring smooth execution of the Programme. NSS volunteers actively participated in the plantation activity with dedication and discipline.
